

Leigh Thomas is the Assistant Director of the Slater Museum. A graduate of NYU's Museum Studies M.A. Program, she oversees many aspects of the Slater's operations, including collections management, marketing and volunteer recruitment. An active member of the regional museum community, Leigh is a co-chair of the New England Museum Association's Membership, Development, PR & Marketing Professional Affinity Group and the President of the Southeastern CT based Five Rivers Consortium. She is immensely proud of the work the staff and volunteers at the Slater have accomplished over the past 18 months, and continues to work to ensure that visitors are informed and inspired by their visit to the museum.
